Introduction:

The ethos of Indian civilization is deeply rooted in collective wellbeing and harmony with nature. The ancient vision of "Sarve Bhavantu Sukhinah" is not just a prayer—it is a philosophy that embraces physical, mental, social, spiritual, and environmental wellness for all. This timeless wisdom, drawn from the Upanishads and the Bhagavad Gita, harmoniously aligns with today's globally recognized ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) framework, which calls for inclusive, responsible, and sustainable development.

As organizations and institutions strive to create a sustainable future, there is a growing need to explore holistic approaches that integrate ancient wisdom with modern ESG principles. This conference aims to ignite this transformative dialogue, bringing together HR leaders, CSR champions, ESG experts, and ancient wisdom practitioners to co-create a vision of holistic wellbeing that serves people, planet, and purpose.
